

Berlin – the place to be.

Berlin invites you to MIPIM 2010. Germany's capital city in the heart of Europe, where political decisions are made, is where Germany presents itself to Europe and the world.

The new BBI Airport and a state-of-the-art transport network offer attractive opportunities for investment and ideally situated locations. Whether in the inner city or at attractive waterside locations, Berlin offers excellent space for every type of use. There's space for both modern production and creative minds alike, you can find big names from business and science, an international meeting place for art and culture. Berlin looks forward to seeing you.

See you at Level 4 of Palais des Festivals, booth H4.28
